

Kyriaki ATHANASSOULI

Lecturer in Political Economy

Department of Humanities and Social Sciences

Hellenic Army Academy

Evelpidon Avenue, 166 72, Vari

Email: k.athanassouli@gmail.com

Dr. Kyriaki ATHANASSOULI is a Lecturer in Political Economy at the Hellenic Army Academy. She holds a First Degree in Economics from the University of PARIS X and a M.Sc. in Mathematical Economics and Econometrics (DEA) from the University of PARIS II (1990). She also holds her Ph.D. in Economics, entitled "The labour cost dispersion in the European Union: individual variables and market variables" (1996), from the University of PARIS X.

She has been teaching the course of Political Economy at the Hellenic Army Academy since 2006. She has extensive academic-teaching and research experience, as she has also taught, for many years in Universities of France (University Paris II & XIII, Versailles, Lille III, CNAM, ENSTA-Bretagne) and Greece (Hellenic Army Academy, Athens University of Economics, University of Peloponnese). Her teaching specialization covers areas of Economics, Public Economics, Education Economics and Defense Economics. Since 2017, she has been teaching at postgraduate level (MASTER 1 & 2 -ERASMUS+) at the University of ENSTA-Bretagne (Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Techniques Avancées), under the supervision of the French Ministry of Armed Forces.

She has also been a Researcher at Laedix-Forum-Université Paris X of the National Center for Scientific Research, CNRS-France, at the National Institute of Labour (NIL) and the Centre of Planning and Economic Research in Greece (KEPE, Researcher grade B).

Her scientific work research is conducted mainly on behalf of Ministries, Universities-Polytechnic University (NTUA), European Commission, and it includes monographs, articles, books and many citations. She acts as an expert at working groups of the CNRS, the European Commission and the OECD. Furthermore, she has also had the responsibility for the conduction of research projects at the NLI-General Secretariat for Research and Innovation and the KEPE. Additionally, she has been supervising a large number of undergraduate theses at the Hellenic Army Academy. She is also a reviewer of scientific books and journals. She has obtained several scholarships during her postgraduate studies.

She is a member of the Economic Chamber of Greece.

Her research interests focus on Political Economics and Econometrics, emphasizing on Public Economics, Defense Economics, Economics of Information Warfare-Cyberwar and Cybersecurity, Education and Labour Economics. She carries out quantitative and qualitative analyses, the results of which contribute to the elaboration of economic and social policy.

She is bilingual in Greek and French; she has a good knowledge of English, some knowledge of German, and excellent computers skills and statistical-data processing abilities.