

Anna Maria Vidalis

Anna Maria Vidalis was born in Thessaloniki-Greece. Her ancestry is from Syros and Tinos. Anna Maria Vidalis has graduated from the Department of Classical Studies of the School of Philosophy in the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. She completed promptly her postgraduate studies and received a Master's Degree (DEA) in Classical Philology from the University of Paris IV (Sorbonne) and also she was awarded a doctorate (Ph.D) from the same University. On June 1, 1984, Anna Maria Vidalis was elected and appointed as an Assistant Professor of Greek Literature in the Hellenic Army Academy, while on November 22, 1996 she was elected as Full-Professor of Greek Literature in the Hellenic Army Academy. Anna Maria Vidalis was appointed as Director in the Academic Issues at the Hellenic Army Academy for the period 2009-2011. Her research interests mainly focus on issues of the Imperial Era, the study of Lucian's work (2nd century AD) and Semiology as a method of analyzing texts.